PERKALATE FOR BRANDS

For brands with a loyalty program

A one-page companion from Perkalate.

You've built the program. Now get it seen.

Most loyalty programs live in an app customers forgot they downloaded, or in an inbox they don't open. The program isn't the problem. It's where it lives.

On Perkalate, your rewards sit right next to Amex, Delta and Marriott in members' wallets. Members open Perkalate to see the value in programs they already care about, and your offer is right there with them. That's why rewards on Perkalate get seen and used more.

What Perkalate adds to the program you already run

New customers, not just existing members. Your current program reaches people who already know you. Perkalate puts your rewards in front of verified customers who don't know you yet but already shop your category.

Targeting by what people actually do. Build audiences from permissioned, verified signals members choose to share: category spend, loyalty tier, points about to expire, birthday month, visit frequency, and location. You see audience totals, never individuals.

Nothing to rebuild. Keep your program, your points and your tiers. Perkalate sits alongside it. No app to build, no new hardware. Members redeem with a Pass at the checkout you already have.

Clear results. See views, claims and redemptions in your dashboard, by store and channel.

Three rewards to try first

1. Join bonus for new customers. A verified shopper in your category who isn't a member yet gets a reward for their first purchase and an invite into your program.
2. Tier-match welcome. Members in a top tier with another program get a welcome reward from you. They already behave like loyal customers.
3. Expiring-points nudge. Members with points about to expire elsewhere see a timely reason to visit you instead.

What it costs

Free to start. You only pay for the rewards you fund. 100+ brands are already on Perkalate.
